No, I've been trying to catch where it might be so I will let you know if I find it.

Thanks!

Last I heard, ITSD was testing to see if it was an issue with it being a Mac, but I haven't heard anything back on that yet. Have you noticed if there's any common spot that's causing the page to reset when you tab to it?

Hey Emily,

I hate to bother you, but I am still having issues with entering our clients into the new system. It is consistently resetting itself while I am tabbing through, entering information. I am using Firefox and have been unable to find any way to utilize the compatibility view within this browser.

Thanks!
Megan
